FINAL DAY AT THE ABBYS

Enormous wins 'Creative Agency of the Year' title

CHRISTINA MONIZ
Goa, May 23

ON THE THIRD and the final day of the Abby Awards, independent agency Enormous emerged the biggest winner with the creative agency of the year title, beating larger network agencies like Leo and FCB India with a metal tally of 67. Leo India, which bagged the title for three consecutive years, was the runner-up with 51 awards while VML India was a distant third with a haul of 19 metals.

All was not lost for Leo, however, since the agency took home the Agency of the Year title in the Brand Activation & Promotions and the Health categories. FCB India was adjudged the branded content and entertainment specialist agency, while Good Morning Films was named the video craft specialist of the year.

There was a total of four Grand Prix awards on the final night. Famous Innovations picked two of those for Henlo Pet Nutrition's 'The Anatomy of Suffering', a campaign that highlighted the suffering of exotic dog breeds in India's tropical weather. VML India picked one up for the Neeman's Shoes Phone Hack campaign and Tribes Communications bagged the fourth for Kansai Nerolac's Dukaan It Yourself.

A total of 29 gold metals and

HUL's Tejas Apte: Up to 30% digital impressions fake

ON THE LAST day of Goafest, Tejas Apte, head of media and digital marketing at Hindustan Unilever (HUL) spoke about the urgent need for a safer and cleaner digital media ecosystem. He outlined the media charter by the Indian Society of Advertisers and emphasised the crucial need for collaborations across the industry to ensure transparency.

He began with the contentious issue of fraud that has been plaguing digital advertising for some time now. —FE BUREAU

95 silvers and 137 bronze metals were awarded, along with 18 Young Maverick awards for disruptive, creative work executed by talent under the age of 30 years. 544 entries were shortlisted for the awards on day three, with 410 being awarded across 54 unique organisations. These also included awards in the Red Abby and Green Awards for planet conservation.

In name of IPL, people betting, gambling: SC on PIL for regulation of online apps

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, May 23

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday said people were betting and gambling in the garb of Indian Premier League (IPL) and sought the Centre's response on a PIL seeking to regulate betting applications.

A bench of Justices Surya Kant and N. K. Jaiswar Singh issued notice to the Centre on a plea filed by K. A. Paul, who claimed many children had died of suicide after using online betting and gambling applications.

The petitioner alleged several online influencers, actors and cricketers were promoting such online apps, luring children in the process and sought a complete ban on illegal betting apps, strict regulations on online gaming and fantasy sports and enactment of a comprehensive law. Paul said in case of ciga-

The bench said, "In the name of IPL, a lot of people are betting and indulging in gambling. This is a serious issue." Without taking names, the plea said even the "god of cricket" endorsed such betting applications.

Paul claimed to represent "millions of parents" whose children have died in the past couple of years. "More than 1,023 peo-

Tata Sons to begin work on Ayodhya temple architecture museum in June

MAULSHREE SETH
Lucknow, May 23

WORK ON A "TEMPLE architecture museum", showcasing the design, history and culture of temples across the world, will begin in Ayodhya next month.

The museum, which is being developed by Tata Sons in collaboration with the Union Ministry of Culture and the Uttar Pradesh government, will be built at Manjha Jamtara village in Ayodhya.

This comes after the Uttar Pradesh government finalised the allocation of 35 acres of land to Tata for the development of the museum, which officials said would be a first-of-its-kind project. As per the understanding between Tata and the state government, the land will be provided on a lease of ₹1 per annum for 90 years.

Sources said Vinayak Deshpande, who played a significant role in the project to build the new Parliament building, will mentor the temple museum project and will start camping in Ayodhya soon. The aim will be to turn the museum into a state-of-the-art attraction for tourists from across the world, sources said. According to state government officials, the project will also showcase Sanatan culture through temple architecture.

On Wednesday, Tata Sons chairman N Chandrasekaran had visited Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath in Lucknow. Later, he also visited Ayodhya. According to sources, Chandrasekaran was accompanied by people who have been given responsibility for the museum project.

"The project is being developed in close coordination between Tata and the Uttar Pradesh government. It will be a one-of-a-kind project. The work on the project will certainly start on the ground next month," a source said.

The project proposal for the Temple Architecture Museum in Ayodhya was cleared by the Uttar Pradesh

Cabinet last year.

According to the proposal, the estimated expenditure of the project will be around ₹750 crore, which will largely come from Tata's corporate social responsibility fund.

The UP gov't has finalised the allocation of 35 acres to Tata for the development of the museum

Global ad agencies colluded on fees: CCI

ADITYA KALRA
New Delhi, May 23

INDIA'S ANTITRUST BODY found that global ad agencies breached laws by coordinating on commissions they charge advertisers, prompting the watchdog's raids on advertising and media companies in March, according to a document which sheds new light on the investigation into the media sector.

The Competition Commission of India (CCI) conducted surprise raids in March at the local offices of ad agencies WPP-owned GroupM, Interpublic, Publicis and Dentsu and at the offices of an Indian broadcaster's body and an association of advertising firms.

CCI document dated February 7 and seen by Reuters on Friday sheds new light on allegations that three separate cartels operated through three different industry groups: the Indian Society of Advertisers (ISA), Advertising Agencies Association of India (AAAI) and

MEDIA SECTOR UNDER LENS

■ CCI conducted surprise raids in March at the local offices of ad agencies WPP-owned GroupM, Interpublic, Publicis and Dentsu

■ Document sheds light on allegations that three separate cartels operated through three different industry groups

■ Raids cast a shadow on India's fast-growing media and broadcast sector which counts Reliance-Disney and Sony as top players

■ Probe comes amid major shifts in ad landscape following last year's $8.5-bn merger between Walt Disney & Reliance's Indian media assets

Indian Broadcasting and Digital Foundation (IBDF).

Before the raids, the CCI document said, it reviewed evidence that showed the alleged misconduct was prevalent since at least 2023, and advertising agencies exchanged commercially sensitive information on WhatsApp groups and agreed to adhere to pre-decided commission structures.

"AAAI and its members are in contravention" of competition laws, the CCI noted in its initial review, while ordering the investigation which triggered the March raids, the document said.

AAAI also often organised virtual meetings among members to align on prices and responses to be shared with clients, and discussed "retaliatory action" against members who don't follow such guidelines, the document said.

The group "also fixed the formula for fee in case of fee-based service to advertisers," CCI said.

The groups - AAAI which represents GroupM, Dentsu and Publicis, ISA which counts dozens of Indian and foreign companies as members, and the IBDF group of broadcasters - did not respond to Reuters queries. The CCI also did not respond to a request for comment.

The CCI does not publicly disclose any details of price fixing investigations. Reuters reported in March that the allegations relate to collusion between media buying agencies and broadcasters, and the case was triggered after Dentsu made disclosures under a whistleblower-type federal programme.

The raids cast a shadow on India's fast-growing media and broadcast sector which counts Reliance-Disney and Sony as top players, and could alter how ads are priced and sold in the country. Detailing the allegations, the CCI document said the advertisers "established a buyer's cartel", while the broadcasters who provide channels separately engaged in "collective action to refrain from giving discounts" to clients. —PTI

Delhi logs 23 Covid cases; govt issues advisory to hospitals

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL has reported 23 Covid-19 cases, prompting the Delhi government to issue an advisory asking all hospitals to prepare for the availability of beds, oxygen, medicines and vaccines.

This is the first time that Delhi has reported Covid-19 cases after nearly three years. On Friday, health minister Pankaj Singh said that 23 Covid-19 cases have been reported till Thursday, and the government is verifying the details of whether patients are residents of Delhi or have a travel history outside the city.

Andhra, Telangana, UP also report cases

Meanwhile, four cases were reported in the past 24 hours in Andhra Pradesh, while one case was reported in Telangana on Friday.

In Uttar Pradesh, four people have tested positive, all in Ghaziabad, officials said.

The positive cases in Delhi have been reported by private labs and there is no need to panic, the health minister said, adding that the variant has normal influenza-like symptoms.

"The health condition of all 23 covid patients is fine. We have already held meetings with hospital authorities and we are ready to deal with any kind of situation," the health minister told reporters.

According to him, the government has already coordinated with all medical superintendents, doctors, and their teams across hospitals in the capital. —PTI
